

FURTHER DAMAGE BY SECOND FROST

Freeze Not So Severe During Night
But Vegetation Escaping Sunday
Night is Wilted

CORN CROP IS INJURED

Replanting in Some Instances Will
be Necessary—Many Garden
Crops are Ruined

With the second heavy frost in succession again during the night, still further damage was done to crops and garden truck, which probably had escaped the night before, and the damage to certain crops may be more serious than at first believed to be.

This is especially true of corn, it was stated today, as in many places, and more noticeable in low places, the corn was badly damaged by the freeze and frost. Wheat is not damaged much, according to farmers who have examined it carefully.

Some farmers who observed their corn this morning were of the opinion that it would not survive, and they began replanting it. The wheat crops in some sections of the county suffered worse than in others, but it is believed that generally this crop will not suffer as much as at first predicted.

On Sunday night the mercury went to 28 degrees which brought not only a heavy frost, but also a light freeze, and Monday night it dropped to 31 degrees, bringing a second heavy frost, but the freeze was not noticeable.

The two extremely heavy frosts were of the killing type, and young sprouts suffered the most. Garden produce such as tomatoes, potatoes, onions and melons were practically ruined by the heavy frost, unless the garden patch was protected by trees or buildings. The potatoes were doing exceptionally well in all parts of the county, and the freeze wilted them, so that it is believed that they will not produce anything like a normal crop.

The weather prediction for tonight says that a light frost is probable in this section of the state, but warmer weather is promised for the rest of the week.

The mercury today was beginning to climb, after the drop of the past two days, and at noon it was going up past the 50 mark, but it was expected that by night it would again drop to a temperature where a light frost would result.

Many Farmers Replanting

Indianapolis, Ind., May 26—Farmers throughout Indiana today began the task of replanting thousands of acres of crops and garden truck blighted by the killing frost Sunday night.

SHAW DENIES SLAYING OF MRS. HELEN WHELCHER

Colored Man Who Was Once Sentenced to Electric Chair Admits Possession of Rings

GIVEN TO HIM, HE TESTIFIES

(By United Press)

Martinsville, Ind., May 26—Taking the stand in his own defense John Thomas Shaw, 23, colored, today denied any connection with the murder of Mrs. Helen Whelcher, a white woman in Indianapolis in November, 1923.

Shaw admitted having Mrs. Whelcher's ring and watch in his possession after the murder but insisted that they were given to him by a white man on the morning after Mrs. Whelcher was killed.

He is on trial a second time charged with murdering the white woman. His first trial at Indianapolis ended in conviction and sentence to death but a new trial was ordered by the state supreme court.

Shaw's testimony was given in the form of direct answers to questions by his attorneys in which he denied any knowledge of the crime.

The state rested its case shortly before noon and Shaw was the first witness called by the defense. It is expected that the case will go to the jury Wednesday or Thursday.

FRATERNITY CHAPTER FORMED

Installation Services of Phi Delta Kappa Next Sunday

A chapter of the Phi Delta Kappa fraternity has been organized in this city, and headquarters will be established in the rooms over the Thompson Fruit Store in North Main street. The installation services will be given Sunday June 7, by the Roe chapter of Indianapolis and a splendid program is being arranged for that day, including a banquet to be served in the evening.

Officers for the local chapter have been appointed and there will be fifteen charter members. The fraternity is making plans to give musical shows, dances and other kinds of entertainments, the proceeds of which will be used for charitable purposes.

MANY STORES TO CLOSE SATURDAY

Although Memorial Day Falls on Last Day of Week, Number Will Observe The Holiday

WEEK END TRIPS PLANNED

Customary Practice of Decorating
Graves of Veterans Will be Followed in Morning

With Memorial Day coming on Saturday, business will be rather quiet in Rushville on that day, it was intimated today, because many business men were expressing a willingness to close for the entire day.

The dry goods stores of the city reached an agreement this morning, and they will be closed all day, and it was expected that the clothing stores, hardware and other stores would do the same. The dry goods stores and perhaps others remain open for a short time Friday night, so that persons can buy their week end supplies.

Groceries and meat shops will remain open as usual because of the necessity of their business. Banks will observe the holiday and remain closed. Barber shops will be open as usual, but will observe Monday as the holiday, and will be closed all day.

The postoffice will observe holiday hours, with no rural or city deliveries and the windows will close at ten o'clock. Mail will be dispatched as usual for all trains, and perishable and special delivery mail will be delivered promptly.

With the holiday coming on Saturday, it provides a good opportunity for motorists to make week end trips, and many Rushville people will leave over the vacation period. The annual Speedway race at Indianapolis will also attract the usual number of people from this city and county, and the tourist rush from many states will begin within a few days, with hundreds of machines passing through here enroute for the races.

The usual program will be followed for Memorial Day with the exception that the customary afternoon address will be delivered Sunday instead of Saturday.

Patriotic orders led by the G. A. R. and the American Legion will join in the morning ceremony. The procession will form at the court house at 9:30 o'clock and move to East Hill cemetery where graves of war veterans will be decorated and a short program will be held. A brief address will be delivered by Judge Will M. Sparks.

On Sunday afternoon patriotic societies will hold a program at the court house assembly room and the principal address will be delivered by the Rev. B. F. Cato of the Main Street Christian church.

CASE SET FOR TODAY IS SETTLED OUT OF COURT

Trial Involving Payment of Note is Compromised—Chester Taylor
Still Held in Jail

TOLEDO BOYS ARE CONFINED

A case set for trial today in which the jury was expected to be used, was comprised outside of court and the action will be dismissed. The case involved the payment of a note, and was filed by Grover F. White and Benjamin Foreman against Leslie B. Brown.

Chester Taylor, who was arrested Sunday night on a charge of violating the liquor law, remained in jail today unable to provide $2,000 bond, and following his plea of not guilty. The trial date has not been set by the court.

The three lads of Toledo are still detained in jail, and some disposition of their cases will be made shortly, it was stated today. The oldest is 16 years old, and a charge of vehicle taking can be placed against him, while the other two boys are past 14 years of age, and the case against them has been transferred to Juvenile court.

An effort was made to have the parents of the two younger boys or officials in Toledo to provide money to return them home, but the parents have not expressed any willingness to do so, and the local court will take some action in the matter.

I. U. TRUSTEES LOSE IN SUIT

Endeavor to Collect on Bond of
Stadium Contractors

Indianapolis, Ind., May 26—Trustees of Indiana University today lost their suit in federal court to secure judgement of $50,000 from the Detroit Fidelity and Surety Company, which went on the bond of the Bedford Steel and Construction company, builders of the University stadium at Bloomington.

The jury in federal court which heard the case, returned a verdict for the defendants.

The trustees sought to recover on the bond alleging that the stadium was of faulty construction. The stadium was torn down and rebuilt several months ago.

ENTERTAINMENT OF UNUSUAL MERIT

Ben Claire Crow Will Interpret Tragedy of John the Baptist as Written in "Salome"

MERLE MAUPIN TO ASSIST

Rushville Young Man Will Give Explanation of Strauss' Opera—St. Paul's M. E. Society Benefit

An entertainment of unusual interest will be given at the Graham Annex, Wednesday evening, June 3, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of the St. Paul's M. E. church, for the benefit of the Methodist Children's Home at Lebanon, Ind.

Ben Claire Crow will interpret the tragedy of John the Baptist as written in "Salome" by Oscar Wilde. Merle Maupin will give an explanation of the music of Strauss' opera "Salome," with illustrations and other selections. Wherever Mr. Crow and Mr. Maupin have given this program there has been a crowded house and the newspapers have been most complimentary as they have returned three and four times to present the program before different organizations.

The Streator, Illinois, Daily Press of May 15th says:

"Ben Claire Crow, dramatic interpreter, added another success to the list of dramatic readings, with which he has been attracting to the Central church of Christ audiences appreciative of literature and good music, assisted by Merle E. Maupin at the piano."

March 13, the Press says: "The second presentation of 'Salome' by Oscar Wilde was even more enthusiastically received than the first performance at the Masonic Temple on February 20. The church was filled and many were turned away."

"Mr. Maupin's intelligent demonstration was much appreciated by the audience. Mr. Crow depicted the different characters in the drama, with a natural ease in the transition from one to another, worthy of an artist of high standing. Mr. Crow is the only person who has attempted this drama in English."

"Mr. Crow has a fine baritone voice and in presenting 'Salome' sings 'Vision Fugitive,' (The Fleeing Vision) by Massenet, so well known and loved by every one."

Mr. Maupin is well known in Rushville as a musician of rare attainment and his many friends will rejoice at this opportunity of hearing him again.

SEVENTEEN FARMERS IN 5-ACRE CORN CONTEST

At Least Thirty Are Expected to be
in Race When Enrollment Closes
June 15

LEONARD BOOTH HOLDS CUP

Seventeen Rush county farmers have enrolled in the Five Acre Corn Contest, according to Herschel VanMatre, county agricultural agent, and it is expected that at least thirty will be in the race when the enrollment closes June 15.

Leonard Booth of Anderson township has held the silver cup for the past two years by having the largest yield of anyone enrolled in the Rush county club. George Yarling, 28-year-old Shelby county farmer won state honors in 1924 by producing 118 bushels per acre on his 5-acre plot.

A Ripley township farmer last fall, stated that it was worth the membership fee of 50c in the Indiana Corn Growers' association to have a disinterested corn judge come to his farm each October and check up his yield. A Rushville township farmer says that the annual report mailed each member contains information which is worth many times the cost of the membership.

Many farmers are now realizing that it is just as much of an honor to produce 75 bushels of corn per acre on their hillside field as it is to produce more than 100 bushels per acre on a 5-acre plot in a rich black bottom.

At least there is more honor in saying, "My corn yielded at the rate of 65 bushels per acre as determined by the State Five Acre Corn Judge," rather than "I believe my corn would have weighed up about 85 bushels to the acre in the back forty."

MRS. DAKE IMPROVES

Mrs. Edward Dake, who underwent an operation at the Major Hospital in Shelbyville for appendicitis, is improving nicely and her recovery is expected unless unforeseen complications arise. Mrs. Dake was formerly Miss Mildred Davis.

Guests of Rotary Club

R. W. SAGE IS SPEAKER

Declamation Contest Winners Presented and Frank Green, Jr., Gives "I Am an American"

Veterans of the Civil, Spanish-American and World war were honored guests at the noon meeting of the Rotary club at the Odd Fellows Temple today, and the four Rushville high school winners in the Mansfield Declamation contest were likewise entertained and Frank Green Jr., winner of second prize, gave his declamation, "I Am An American," Miss Dorothy Hamrick, English instructor and public speaking coach in the high school, was also a guest.

John H. Kiplinger, former commander of Rush post No. 150 of the American Legion, presented the visiting veterans, expressing great gratification for the privilege, and the Rev. R. W. Sage, pastor of the First Baptist church, delivered the principal address, setting forth the necessity of Memorial Day observance.

George J. Griesser, president of the club, said the Rotary club was glad to honor Civil war veterans who fought to save the union; Spanish-American veterans, who fought for the nation's honor, and World war veterans, who fought to save freedom and peace.

Mr. Kiplinger, in a brief word of introduction, said he felt it an honor to introduce the war veterans present, particularly the boys of '61 to '65. He commented upon the danger of pacifism and said that if it had not been for the boys of '61 to '65, this country would be in much the same condition as Russia, where pacifism has been followed to its logical conclusion.

Mr. Kiplinger explained briefly the origin and purposes of the American Legion, setting forth that it was founded on the principle of service to God and country.

Civil war veterans present were: W. T. Jackson, Dan Kinney, Luther Dowe, I. N. Clifford, W. A. Caldwell, W. W. Wilcox, M. C. Dawson and Mr. Joliff of Wabash.

Spanish-American veterans present were G. P. Hunt and L. L. Allen and the following represented the

DECISION'S EFFECT HERE IN QUESTION

United States Supreme Court Rules Invalid Ordinance Similar to One Lately Passed Here

RESTRAINS CITY OF PORTLAND

Rushville Boosters Club Plans to Get Legal Advice to Determine Effect of Ruling Locally

Officers of the Rushville Boosters Club today planned to get legal advice to determine what effect the decision of the United States supreme court in the Real Silk Hosiery Mills case, handed down Monday, would have on the itinerant merchant and peddlers' ordinance recently enacted in Rushville.

The ordinance received its first test one day recently when a brush salesman proved, when arraigned before Mayor, that the city law did not apply to him insofar as a license was concerned, inasmuch as he was taking orders for future delivery. The ordinance, however, does contain a section providing that every canvasser from outside the county shall give a bond, which was not enforced when the brush salesman was arraigned.

The highest court in the land held that such an ordinance could not be enforced, with respect to the license fee as well as the bond. The Rushville ordinance is not a duplicate of the Portland, Ore., ordinance, which was ruled invalid, but is similar to it.

A Washington dispatch today sets out the steps in the litigation which resulted in the victory of the Indianapolis concern.

The Indianapolis company had sought to restrain the city of Portland, Ore., from enforcing an ordinance requiring that each of the company's twenty salesmen in that city be required to pay a license fee of $12.50 quarterly and post a bond of $500. The United States district court of Oregon ruled against the company, holding the ordinance was proper, and the United States circuit court of appeals for ninth judicial district sustained this opinion.

The company challenged the Portland ordinance on the ground that it interfered with and burdened interstate commerce and was repugnant to Art. 1, Sec. 8 of the Federal constitution. Because of the principal involved and the far-reaching effect of the ordinance, the company after suffering the two reverses carried its case to the highest court of the land.

The decision of the United States Supreme court in favor of the company

DIRIGIBLE MAY BE SENT TO THE ARCTIC

Sentiment Grows in Favor of Dispatching Shenandoah or Los Angeles After Missing Aviators

PRESIDENT IS FAVORABLE

(By United Press)

Washington, May 26—Sentiment for the ultimate dispatch of the United States Naval dirigible Shenandoah or the Los Angeles to the Arctic to search for the Amundsen expedition, grew swiftly in official quarters today.

Developments included:

A statement by the White House spokesman that President Coolidge favored the use of all practical and possible means of carrying relief to the missing exploring party if it finally becomes necessary.

A declaration by Secretary of the Navy Wilbur that while no official consideration was being given yet to plans for such use of the giant airship, he personally was giving much thought to the project.

The president was reported by the White House spokesman as entirely favorable to the use of either or both of the great airships in the venture if expert opinion of naval aeronauts regarded the project as feasible.

The president, however, was said to believe that it is not yet certain that dispatch of a rescue crew party is needed and until the need is manifest, plans should be held in obedience.

NO DAMAGE FROM FIRE

Children playing with matches was said to have been the cause of a fire shortly after noon today at the home of Ralph Wagoner, 929 West Third street, but no damage resulted. A pile of leaves and trash that had accumulated underneath the porch was set on fire with matches through an air hole in the foundation, and smoke rolled out from underneath the house. The alarm was turned in from box 134, Spencer and Third streets, and pumper company 2 responded and extinguished the blaze with the booster hose line, with no loss resulting.

VETERANS OF THREE WARS ARE HONORED

World war: Raymond Benning, Russell Dearing, Dr. P. H. Chadwick, George Todd and Tom Saunders."We forget all too soon the things that are back of Memorial Day,"
said the Rev. Mr. Sage, recalling the treatment that soldiers had received
during the period immediately following war. "We descend from the mountain top of devotion to the valley of selfishness."Memorial Day is essential, he said,
to the life of the nation, to bring back our thoughts to the men who served to bring us back to a higher plane of thinking and acting towards those who made the sacrifices of war."Those who gave their lives and those who are crippled and maimed"
he asserted, "we should remember in a tangible way. I rejoice that the Civil war veterans are being remembered more graciously than immediately after the war."Memorial Day is a necessity, he continued, lest we forget the cause
back of it—war with its bloodshed, degradation and heartaches. The speaker declared he was not a pacifist, nor a jingo, adding "There may be those who care for war. They are simple fools—nothing more. I wish that the jingos might have a taste
of war and all its hellishness." Neither did he justify, he said, the man who would refuse to lay down his life for his country and the principles for which it stands.

"One of the greatest things we

that which makes for righteousness,
that which makes for peace, and we can best repay those who sacrificed
by just that."In closing, the Rev. Mr. Sage spoke of the heroism of peace which he declared required physical, mental and spiritual or moral courage."We are learning the value of the heroism of the common place," he said. "It takes courage to step out into the world of business or science
and take a stand for the right."

A Carnival Aftermath

"A Rushville Citizen" writing to
the Daily Republican makes a good
case against the carnival which was
here last week, and in doing so condemns all transient carnivals.

Aside from any moral questions—
and that alone is enough to brand
them as undesirable—they are a detachment to the community from a business standpoint. They carry
thousands of dollars away and leave
nothing in return.

Such organizations as the one
lately in Rushville take money from
many people who can ill afford to
spend it and as a consequence the local merchant suffers. He sells that much less merchandise or he finds it impossible to collect for that which he has sold.

Every individual has the right to
spend his money in the manner that
he sees fit. No one questions that
right so long as he meets his financial obligations. But when he wastes
money and neglects to pay his honest debts, the interests of others are

involved and the question becomes
one of public interest.

Regardless of the test applied, the
carnival as it is now operated can not justify itself. It violates the
law in permitting wide open public
gambling in which any child may engage. It assaults the sense of decency with the class of people
which it brings into the community.
And the class of attractions it has,
with the exception of the riding devices, are a pretense of no entertaining value.

There are no cases on record
where any organization ever profited
from sponsoring a carnival. There is
generally a trick clause to the contract which leaves the local organization with all the responsibility.
Compared with the labor required
and the harm which is done the organization in the eyes of many people, any group that undertakes to
underwrite a carnival loses instead
of gains.

The carnival is gradually being ostracized. There ought to be a public sentiment in Rushville which
would not permit such a leach on
society to do business in this community.

SERMON DEALS WITH CHURCH BACKSLIDERS

The following is in part the sermon delivered by the E. W. McKibben at the First United Presbyterian church Sunday:

"And I gave her time that she should repent, and she willeth not
to repent." Revelation 2:21.

It is our purpose to bring this text
down to the present time and to apply it to the Church today. This woman, Jezebel, represents a large part of the membership of the visible
church, as it would seem, backsliders in heart, corrupt in doctrine,
teaching evil by word and example,
and being a stumbling block to others. Three general propositions, arising from this text, need to be stated.

First, the State of the Backslider.
No one can deny that many who were sincere, and faithful, and orderly in their christian life are so no more. All this is changed or even reversed. Explain it as you may choose. We may say that their hearts were never right; or that their lapse is only temporary; or
that they have fallen from grace.
However you may account for it, at least four things may be said of them.

Their profession is forgotten.
When they entered the fellowship of the Church they promised "To be diligent in their attendance on divine services both teaching and seal-

Stewart's Washington LetterBY CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—The Wheeler
defense committee has raised $5000 to fight the Washington conspiracy case against Senator Burton K. Wheeler. Contributions are from all parts of the country, some under $1. The big contributors thus far are ex-Congressman and Mrs. William Kent, California—$250. The committee wants $25,000.

Wheeler isn't rich. His Montana case cost him a good deal. To illustrate, when the prosecution
announced the New York lawyer, Hayes, as a witness, Wheeler realized that he needed rebuttal testimony.

He relied for it on three New Yorkers whom he had to find in a hurry. He couldn't trust the very justice department which sought
his conviction to look for them,
so he had to hire private detectives.

Before the trio reached Great Falls, Hayes had told so weak a story that they were turned back.
But that bill alone exceeded $1000.

THE Washington case will be still more expensive. Most of the Montana witnesses were right there. They'll have to be brought to Washington. Perhaps Wheeler could manage it by straining his last resource, but his friends feel it will be hard if he has to sacrifice house and home to vindicate himself—especially if the Washington charges prove as flimsy as those in Montana were.

Of his conviction they express
no fear, but, said one of them, "I'll be surprised if there isn't at least ing." Other obligations were assumed, but this is most apparent.

And these backsliders are now living in open and willful violation of this promise which they professed to have made "As in the presence of God and as they desired to give in their account with joy at the last day." They come only for special programs, for entertainment, or to renew their vows on communion occasions. Some are never seen inside the Church for any reason.

Their conscience is asleep. It utters no warning. It does not accuse.
It does not cause disquietude. There is no sense of guilt, or feeling of unworthiness, or fear of penalty, or desire for anything better. The Holy Spirit seems to have withdrawn.
Ephraim is joined to his idols, let him alone.

They sink lower and lower in the moral scale. They wander farther and farther away. Every backslider,
in heart or in life, is on the Devil's toboggan slide. "Evil men and se-ducers wax worse and worse, deceiv-ing and being deceived."

Their influence over others is bad.
Since they do not gather with Him,
they scatter abroad. And no one can scatter so effectively as a trusted harvest hand who has no interest in his employers business. One Arnold within the American lines is more dangerous to the cause of liberty
than twenty in the British camp.
Judas, as a trusted disciple, can sell his Lord for silver, betray Him with a kiss, and deliver Him up to the enemy. Yes he can break his Master's heart.

Second, We have Here the Forbearance of God. "I gave her time that she should repent." And time is among God's best gifts. It means that judgement is deferred. He is not willing that any should perish.
Hence He is infinitely patient in dealing with the backslider. And He sends them monitors. Every prophet was sent to remind Israel of what God expected of them. Every apostle was sent to call men to repentance.
Every minister is sent to keep the people reminded of their relationship to God. Every regular attendant on the Church is a monitor to those that do not. Every family that has home religion is a monitor to those that do not. Every upright citizen is a rebuke to those that are so faithful.

Third, This Plan of God is Blocked. "And she willeth not to repent."
This is a refusal to consider the proposition. She did not say "I will not repent." The attitude is rather negative, a sort of passive resistance,
a refusal to take the matter seriously. God said "Repent," and "She willeth not to repent." She would not repent since she was unwilling to forsake sin. That may account for the fact that 95 per cent
of the unchurched masses seldom enter the church, and that 75 per cent of church members do not attend regularly on the worship of God. The reason may be summed up in one word. And that word is sin—SIN, sin in some form, sin in some guise. It is as if puny man lifted his arm of flesh against High Heaven
and defied the Almighty to do His worst. "I gave her time that she
should repent, and she willeth not
to repent," is in statement of fact
very modern, and very much up to date.

one juror to insure a disagreement.
There wasn't in Montana, but Washington's different."

Wheeler's lucky in his friends.
But for them the justice department would break him financially,
it not otherwise.

THE State Department looks
with tentative satisfaction
upon Leon Trotsky's return to power in Russia. The department realizes it may be disappointed but just now it thinks the outlook encouraging. As the world knows, even Lenin admitted and sanctioned a partial restoration of capitalism. Trotsky favored its complete restoration. A good communist until he tried it, he'd had enough. After Lenin died, he came out openly for whole hog capitalism.

YOU have to give Trotsky credit
for sense and nerve to change
his mind but it cost him his job as war minister. It would have cost him his life but the radicals were afraid. He still had too many supporters. So they exiled
him. Now he's back. One possible
explanation is that he's recanted his heresy. A likelier one is that the radicals got into such a jam
they had to have him. In that case he probably will run things
to suit himself—capitalistically.
He may even be practical businessman enough to acknowledge Russia's foreign debts. That's all Washington can ask. Indeed, it would make him popular here, and doubtless his government would be recognized.

Trotsky welcomed as a conservative!

Broadening the Base of Industry

"We are living in a world too small to be compartmented," says Willis H. Booth, President of the International Chamber of Commerce.

Long ago the Standard Oil Company (Indiana)
foresaw the change in business which is now taking place. Several years ago this Company took a long step in advance by widening the ownership of its capital stock, and by bringing into complete harmony the interests of customers, stockholders, employees and the public.

So far as the Standard Oil Company (Indiana)
is concerned, the interests of capital, labor and the consumer are no longer divided into separate "compartments." These interests are one.

Only by the profitable employment of the stockholders' capital can the consumer be served and labor employed. The stockholder wants dividends. Dividends are paid out of profits. Profits follow service to the consumer.
Efficient service to the consumer can only be achieved through a wise labor policy.

By the careful, thorough-going administration of its affairs, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has interlocked these interests in such a manner as to promote complete harmony in its own organization—and to develop and encourage the spirit of "I Will" and "I Can"—resulting in an enthusiastic service to the thirty million people of ten Middle Western states.

Every purchaser of a gallon of gasoline manufactured by this Company gets the benefit of a myriad of activities, the enthusiastic labor of innumerable men, and the use of an immense amount of capital.

The ideal which inspired the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to work for a practical fusion of the formerly divergent interests was an ideal of service; an earnest desire to further progress by the creation of new wealth in the form of an abundant supply of petroleum products; a determination to sell these products at prices low enough to bring them within the reach of all; making the comfort and luxury
of motoring as available to the day laborer as to the multi-millionaire.

Stars Draw B. B. Managers

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, May 28—Several major league ball clubs would be willing to take a $75,000 to $100,000 gamble on Owen Carroll, the sensational pitcher of the Holy Cross College varsity nine. Competent scouts, who have been watching him for two years, say that he is ready to step into the major leagues without a hitch in the minors and that he is a natural ball player. In addition to being a smart pitcher, he is a fine hitter and a skilled fielder.

Carroll pledged himself two years ago to the Detroit Tigers and his name appeared upon the eligible list. Last winter he was dropped to the ineligible list and it was thought at the time that Ty Cobb just wanted to make room for another player until Carroll finished his studies. It was a surprise to baseball men to learn that Detroit had secured first crack at his services because he had told several other clubs that his vocation was the priesthood and that he didn't care to follow the career of a baseball player. If he did decide to play a few years, it was thought certain that he would be lured by the Philadelphia Athletics who have an inside track through Jack Barry, Holy Cross coach, and formerly one of Connie Mack's stars.

Apparently Carroll doesn't want to play with Detroit and he has asked Commissioner Landis to be relieved from the pledge that he signed with Detroit. He maintains that he was under age when he signed with Detroit. He maintains there is very little chance that the commissioner will see it that way, however, because a college boy, even though he were only sixteen or seventeen, ought to have intelligence enough to know what he was doing.

Carroll's brilliant work has done much to place Holy Cross in the limelight, although for years it has had the reputation of developing more baseball players than any other institution in the country.

Baseball supports itself and makes money at Holy Cross. There are no figures available, but it is thought that Holy Cross is the only college in the country where baseball is a real money maker.

Records show that the varsity nine played before 65,000 last season at Worcester and the team is such a drawing card that the Worcester team in the Eastern League arranges its schedule so that it will be on the road when Holy Cross plays at home. Last year on a holiday date the varsity nine and the professional team played at home. Ten thousand spectators saw the college game and 500 looked at the league game.

AMUSEMENTS

George Arliss at Castle

George Arliss, distinguished screen and stage star, gives a remarkable life-like study in his newest photoplay, "The Man Who Played God," a United Artists Corporation release, now shown at the Castle theatre. It is one of the most difficult of roles, although as played by Mr. Arliss it unfolds in simplicity and with greater dramatic intensity than any artists has shown in photoplays.

Mr. Arliss has the role of John Arden, famous American musician, who loses his sense of hearing. It is in Paris. He has just married the girl of his heart, Fame has come to him—but now, the end. He returns to New York, and hides away in an apartment on Central Park West. From his windows he can see the great park, and hundreds passing his window. Arden has learned lip reading and peers at passersby through his telescope. He can see them, but they cannot see him.

With the passing of time, Arden's whole nature changes. He is no longer smiling, and gay, cheering those about him. Just the opposite is true. He becomes morose and dejected, instilling fear into those about him. The splendid lover and the loved has brought hatred upon himself by his taciturn conduct.

"A Thief In Paradise." Coming

One of the most bizarre costumes ever seen in motion picture is said to be worn by Aileen Pringle in "A Thief In Paradise," the new First National picture coming to the Princess theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

Solid ropes of pearls form the diaphanous skirt, headdress and bodice. A huge cape of silver net strung with pearls complete the beautiful affair.

It is said that eighteen thousand pearls were used in making the costume. Practically every dealer in Oriental pearls on the Pacific Coast was emptied of his stock.

Aileen symbolizes a pearl in an exotic dance staged on the ocean's bed, twenty feet undersea. It forms one of the many novel scenes shown in "A Thief In Paradise." Ronald Colman and Doris Kenyon are co-featured with Aileen Pringle in the case, with Claude Gillingwater, Alice Francis and John Patrick heading the support.

SCHOOL GIRL COMPLEXION
ISN'T IMPOSSIBLE IF YOU'LL USE CARE IN YOUR EATING

Every woman likes a good complexion which makes for a plexion. Today most of them buy one at the drug store but ill health can't be painted over, and rouge never fooled anyone, however well it may be done.

If you have a dull, mucky complexion under that rouge your health is not good because a fresh, rosy complexion is a sure sign of good health and it is just as easily obtained as the rouge that covers a poor complexion. In nine cases out of ten a mucky complexion or a pale face results from an impoverished or ill-nourished body. Not that enough food isn't eaten but the stomach, wearied by too much abuse of heavy rich foods or improper foods, can't digest the food, and consequently the circulation becomes poor, impurities creep into the blood, sleep is troubled, and the natural result is a more or less run down condition, or if not a run down condition, at least a muddy complexion.

Now that condition can be remedied. First get Di-Jo at your druggist. It is a digestive tablet which will probably correct most of your digestive troubles and then add plenty of green vegetables, fruit and bran starchy foods. You will find that Di-Jo will convert your food into body building flesh, not fat, but real bone and brawn. You'll find your blood circulating better, you'll find the poisonous matter eliminated and if your bowels are lazy take Di-Vac for a few days until the system can readily eliminate the waste itself. Then after Di-Jo and Di-Vac have done their work you'll find yourself feeling so much better that a varied diet will keep you in the very best of health. For sale at all druggists.

Publicity Scrap Book for the Biennial Council at West Baden

Rush County has had a publicity column for its women's Federated Club since April of 1924. Its function has been to report club activity, emphasize the work expected by the State Departments, and to give General Federation News.

Mrs. Kate Allen, as County Chairman first conducted it. Later it was managed by her successor, Mrs. Clara Allen. Then when Mrs. Rena Warner took the chairmanship of the county she appointed Mrs. Helen Hester. Now the State Federation is asking for a page or two of such publicity from Rush County in scrap book form for exhibition at the Biennial Council in June together with such information as we have concerning the line of work which has been pursued by the clubs this past year.

In order that you Rush County club women may review the contents of this scrap book, the following is offered:

There were several outstanding county meetings this club year, as for instance the afternoon of November 15th. Mrs. George Urbach gave her impressions of the authors of Indiana who were present at the Authors Breakfast during the State convention. Mrs. Kate Allen reviewed the important points in Mr. Whiting Williams' address and Mrs. C. A. Dugal explained the proposed amendments to the constitution. Mrs. Clara Lambert presented the plans for Junior Membership. Mrs. Jordan explained the drive being made by the General Federation for Better Homes. Mrs. Walter Saxon discussed federation work from the point of view of a district chairman, giving most helpful ideas.

The principal feature of the meeting was a lecture on Public Health by Dr. W. F. King of Indianapolis followed by discussion, at which time vital questions pertaining to our public hygiene were asked and efficiently answered.

There was a call meeting to select someone to fill Mrs. Clara's Allen's office of county chairman at which time Mrs. Rena Warner was chosen.

The county convention was held in Rushville in April at which time splendid departmental and club reports were heard. Mrs. Rampler, past president of the State Federation, spoke on Feminine Citizenship. A banquet and program were enjoyed by the attendants.

In support of the different departments the column offered such articles, in part, as follows:

Under the caption of "Her Mirror" Better Homes were stressed, endeavoring to show how any woman's home, over which she has the supervision, is her mirror, reflecting, as it does, herself, her education, her training and her ideals.

To further interest in Public Health Mrs. Clara Allen wrote "Let us not be short sighted, let us help this generation by making health a living, radiating objective. In fact make health more contagious than disease."

In order to emphasize Civic Improvement and Memorial Tree activity, under the heading of "Spring" the column offered: "The General Federation of Women's Clubs has a garden week, April 19 to 26, during which time the individual club is asked to stress the individual garden. Then there is a reawakened interest in tree planting. Organized women throughout the United States have used their influence to encourage the planting of trees. Some have been planted in memory of individuals, avenues of trees have been planted in memory of recent war victims. Community Christmas trees, fine specimens of the fast disappearing evergreen have been forever preserved by certain women who have feared for the perpetuity of this magnificent specie. Millions are annually sacrificed at Christmas time; therefore Mrs. Sherman presents the delightful idea that we transplant one to our own yard as a permanent institution.

Would it not prove an exquisite pleasure to some club of Rush County to propose and further some such measure as would prove a lasting memorial in its community.

For the girls of Rush County in particular but for all girls in general, just before Girls Week the column suggested:

"Copying after Boy's Week of last year, we could allow the girls of this community to step into the responsibility and prestige for a season. It would have the effect of stimulating girlish ambition and would acquaint the grown-up population with the partially developed capabilities and unquestionable possibilities of our girlhood."

"These girls in our midst need Big Sisters every bit as badly as any boy ever needed a Big Brother." And then "Peace" was another article in which the publicity chairman endeavored to acquaint the club women with their power of ballot and their personal weight with their representatives in the senate and Congress toward an ultimate plan for peace among nations.

The names of the fourteen clubs of this county affiliated with the County Federation will follow in alphabetical order and a word about the topic of study followed by each.

FURTHER DAMAGE BY SECOND FROST

Freeze Not So Severe During Night
But Vegetation Escaping Sunday
Night is Wilted

CORN CROP IS INJURED

Replanting in Some Instances Will
be Necessary—Many Garden
Crops are Ruined

With the second heavy frost in succession again during the night, still further damage was done to crops and garden truck, which probably had escaped the night before, and the damage to certain crops may be more serious than at first believed to be.

This is especially true of corn, it was stated today, as in many places, and more noticeable in low places, the corn was badly damaged by the freeze and frost. Wheat is not damaged much, according to farmers who have examined it carefully.

Some farmers who observed their corn this morning were of the opinion that it would not survive, and they began replanting it. The wheat crops in some sections of the county suffered worse than in others, but it is believed that generally this crop will not suffer as much as at first predicted.

On Sunday night the mercury went to 28 degrees which brought not only a heavy frost, but also a light freeze, and Monday night it dropped to 31 degrees, bringing a second heavy frost, but the freeze was not noticeable.

The two extremely heavy frosts were of the killing type, and young sprouts suffered the most. Garden produce such as tomatoes, potatoes, onions and melons were practically ruined by the heavy frost, unless the garden patch was protected by trees or buildings. The potatoes were doing exceptionally well in all parts of the county, and the freeze wilted them, so that it is believed that they will not produce anything like a normal crop.

The weather prediction for tonight says that a light frost is probable in this section of the state, but warmer weather is promised for the rest of the week.

The mercury today was beginning to climb, after the drop of the past two days, and at noon it was going up past the 50 mark, but it was expected that by night it would again drop to a temperature where a light frost would result.

Many Farmers Replanting

Indianapolis, Ind., May 26—Farmers throughout Indiana today began the task of replanting thousands of acres of crops and garden truck blighted by the killing frost Sunday night.

SHAW DENIES SLAYING OF MRS. HELEN WHELCHER

Colored Man Who Was Once Sentenced to Electric Chair Admits Possession of Rings

GIVEN TO HIM, HE TESTIFIES

(By United Press)

Martinsville, Ind., May 26—Taking the stand in his own defense John Thomas Shaw, 23, colored, today denied any connection with the murder of Mrs. Helen Whelcher, a white woman in Indianapolis in November, 1923.

Shaw admitted having Mrs. Whelcher's ring and watch in his possession after the murder but insisted that they were given to him by a white man on the morning after Mrs. Whelcher was killed.

He is on trial a second time charged with murdering the white woman. His first trial at Indianapolis ended in conviction and sentence to death but a new trial was ordered by the state supreme court.

Shaw's testimony was given in the form of direct answers to questions by his attorneys in which he denied any knowledge of the crime.

The state rested its case shortly before noon and Shaw was the first witness called by the defense. It is expected that the case will go to the jury Wednesday or Thursday.

Graves of Veterans Will be Followed in Morning

With Memorial Day coming on Saturday, business will be rather quiet in Rushville on that day, it was intimated today, because many business men were expressing a willingness to close for the entire day.

The dry goods stores of the city reached an agreement this morning, and they will be closed all day, and it was expected that the clothing stores, hardware and other stores would do the same. The dry goods stores and perhaps others remain open for a short time Friday night, so that persons can buy their week end supplies.

Groceries and meat shops will remain open as usual because of the necessity of their business. Banks will observe the holiday and remain closed. Barber shops will be open as usual, but will observe Monday as the holiday, and will be closed all day.

The postoffice will observe holiday hours, with no rural or city deliveries and the windows will close at ten o'clock. Mail will be dispatched as usual for all trains, and perishable and special delivery mail will be delivered promptly.

With the holiday coming on Saturday, it provides a good opportunity for motorists to make week end trips, and many Rushville people will leave over the vacation period. The annual Speedway race at Indianapolis will also attract the usual number of people from this city and county, and the tourist rush from many states will begin within a few days, with hundreds of machines passing through here enroute for the races.

The usual program will be followed for Memorial Day with the exception that the customary afternoon address will be delivered Sunday instead of Saturday.

Patriotic orders led by the G. A. R. and the American Legion will join in the morning ceremony. The procession will form at the court house at 9:30 o'clock and move to East Hill cemetery where graves of war veterans will be decorated and a short program will be held. A brief address will be delivered by Judge Will M. Sparks.

On Sunday afternoon patriotic societies will hold a program at the court house assembly room and the principal address will be delivered by the Rev. B. F. Cato of the Main Street Christian church.

CASE SET FOR TODAY IS SETTLED OUT OF COURT

Trial Involving Payment of Note is Compromised—Chester Taylor
Still Held in Jail

TOLEDO BOYS ARE CONFINED

A case set for trial today in which the jury was expected to be used, was compromised outside of court and the action will be dismissed. The case involved the payment of a note, and was filed by Grover F. White and Benjamin Foreman against Leslie B. Brown.

Chester Taylor, who was arrested Sunday night on a charge of violating the liquor law, remained in jail today unable to provide $2,000 bond, and following his plea of not guilty. The trial date has not been set by the court.

The three lads of Toledo are still detained in jail, and some disposition of their cases will be made shortly, it was stated today. The oldest is 16 years old, and a charge of vehicle taking can be placed against him, while the other two boys are past 14 years of age, and the case against them has been transferred to Juvenile court.

An effort was made to have the parents of the two younger boys or officials in Toledo to provide money to return them home, but the parents have not expressed any willingness to do so, and the local court will take some action in the matter.

I. U. TRUSTEES LOSE IN SUIT

Endeavor to Collect on Bond of
Stadium Contractors

Indianapolis, Ind., May 26—Trustees of Indiana University today lost their suit in federal court to secure judgement of $50,000 from the Detroit Fidelity and Surety Company, which went on the bond of the Bedford Steel and Construction company, builders of the University stadium at Bloomington.

The jury in federal court which heard the case, returned a verdict for the defendants.

The trustees sought to recover on the bond alleging that the stadium was of faulty construction. The stadium was torn down and rebuilt several months ago.

ENTERTAINMENT OF UNUSUAL MERIT

Ben Claire Crow Will Interpret Tragedy of John the Baptist as Written
in "Salome"

MERLE MAUPIN TO ASSIST

Rushville Young Man Will Give
Explanation of Strauss' Opera—St.
Paul's M. E. Society Benefit

An entertainment of unusual interest will be given at the Graham Annex, Wednesday evening, June 3, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of the St. Paul's M. E. church, for the benefit of the Methodist Children's Home at Lebanon, Ind.

Ben Claire Crow will interpret the tragedy of John the Baptist as written in "Salome" by Oscar Wilde. Merle Maupin will give an explanation of the music of Strauss' opera "Salome," with illustrations and other selections. Wherever Mr. Crow and Mr. Maupin have given this program there was a crowded house and the newspapers have been most complimentary as they have returned three and four times to present the program before different organizations.

The Streator, Illinois, Daily Press of May 15th says:

"Ben Claire Crow, dramatic interpreter, added another success to the list of dramatic readings, with which he has been attracting to the Central church of Christ audiences appreciative of literature and good music, assisted by Merle E. Maupin at the piano."

March 13, the Press says: "The second presentation of 'Salome' by Oscar Wilde was even more enthusiastically received than the first performance at the Masonic Temple on February 20. The church was filled and many were turned away."

"Mr. Maupin's intelligent demonstration was much appreciated by the audience. Mr. Crow depicted the different characters in the drama, with a natural ease in the transition from one to another, worthy of an artist of high standing. Mr. Crow is the only person who has attempted this drama in English."

"Mr. Crow has a fine baritone voice and in presenting 'Salome' sings 'Vision Fugitive' (The Fleeting Vision) by Massenet, so well known and loved by every one."

Mr. Maupin is well known in Rushville as a musician of rare attainment and his many friends will rejoice at this opportunity of hearing him again.

SEVENTEEN FARMERS IN 5-ACRE CORN CONTEST

At Least Thirty Are Expected to be
in Race When Enrollment Closes
June 15

LEONARD BOOTH HOLDS CUP

Seventeen Rush county farmers have enrolled in the Five Acre Corn Contest, according to Herschel VanMatre, county agricultural agent, and it is expected that at least thirty will be in the race when the enrollment closes June 15.

Leonard Booth of Anderson township has held the silver cup for the past two years by having the largest yield of anyone enrolled in the Rush county club. George Yarling, 28-year-old Shelby county farmer won state honors in 1924 by producing 118 bushels per acre on his 5-acre plot.

A Ripley township farmer last fall, stated that it was worth the membership fee of 50c in the Indiana Corn Growers' association to have a disinterested corn judge come to his farm each October and check up his yield. A Rushville township farmer says that the annual report mailed each member contains information which is worth many times the cost of the membership.

Many farmers are now realizing that it is just as much of an honor to produce 75 bushels of corn per acre on their hillside field as it is to produce more than 100 bushels per acre on a 5-acre plot in a rich black bottom.

At least there is more honor in saying, "My corn yielded at the rate of 65 bushels per acre as determined by the State Five Acre Corn Judge," rather than "I believe my corn would have weighed up about 85 bushels to the acre in the back forty."

MRS. DAKE IMPROVES

Mrs. Edward Dake, who underwent an operation at the Major Hospital in Shelbyville for appendicitis, is improving nicely and her recovery is expected unless unforeseen complications arise. Mrs. Dake was formerly Miss Mildred Davis.

BUYS OFFICE BUILDING

Dr. R. O. Kennedy has purchased the office building occupied and owned by Dr. F. R. McClanahan in West Third street. Declamation Contest Winners Present and Frank Green, Jr., Gives
"I Am an American"

Veterans of the Civil, Spanish-American and World war were honored guests at the noon meeting of the Rotary club at the Odd Fellows Temple today, and the four Rushville high school winners in the Mansfield Declamation contest were likewise entertained and Frank Green Jr., winner of second prize, gave his declamation, "I Am an American." Miss Dorothy Hamrick, English instructor and public speaking coach in the high school, was also a guest.

John H. Kiplinger, former commander of Rush post No. 150 of the American Legion, presented the visiting veterans, expressing great gratification for the privilege, and the Rev. R. W. Sage, pastor of the First Baptist church, delivered the principal address, setting forth the necessity of Memorial Day observance. George J. Griesser, president of the club, said the Rotary club was glad to honor Civil war veterans who fought to save the union; Spanish-American veterans, who fought for the nation's honor, and World war veterans, who fought to save freedom and peace.

Mr. Kiplinger, in a brief word of introduction, said he felt it an honor to introduce the war veterans present, particularly the boys of '61 to '65. He commented upon the danger of pacifism and said that if it had not been for the boys of '61 to '65, this country would be in much the same condition as Russia, where pacifism has been followed to its logical conclusion.

Mr. Kiplinger explained briefly the origin and purposes of the American Legion, setting forth that it was founded on the principle of service to God and country.

Civil war veterans present were: W. T. Jackson, Dan Kinney, Luther Downey, I. N. Clifford, W. A. Caldwell, W. W. Wilcox, M. C. Dawson and Mr. Joliff of Wahash.

Spanish-American veterans, present were G. P. Hunt and L. L. Allen and the following represented the

DECISION'S EFFECT HERE IN QUESTION

United States Supreme Court Rules
Invalid Ordinance Similar to One

RESTRAINS CITY OF PORTLAND

Rushville Boosters Club Plans to Get Legal Advice to Determine
Effect of Ruling Locally

Officers of the Rushville Boosters Club today planned to get legal advice to determine what effect the decision of the United States supreme court in the Real Silk Hosiery Mills case, handed down Monday, would have on the itinerant merchant and peddlers' ordinance recently enacted in Rushville.

The ordinance received its first test one day recently when a brush salesman proved, when arraigned before Mayor, that the city law did not apply to him insofar as a license was concerned, inasmuch as he was taking orders for future delivery. The ordinance, however, does contain a section providing that every canvasser from outside the county shall give a bond, which was not enforced when the brush salesman was arraigned.

The highest court in the land held that such an ordinance could not be enforced, with respect to the license fee as well as the bond. The Rushville ordinance is not a duplicate of the Portland, Ore., ordinance, which was ruled invalid, but is similar to it.

A Washington dispatch today sets out the steps in the litigation which resulted in the victory of the Indianapolis concern.

The Indianapolis company had sought to restrain the city of Portland, Ore., from enforcing an ordinance requiring that each of the company's twenty salesmen in that city be required to pay a license fee of $12.50 quarterly and post a bond of $500. The United States district court of Oregon ruled against the company, holding the ordinance was proper, and the United States circuit court of appeals for ninth judicial district sustained this opinion.

The company challenged the Portland ordinance on the ground that it interfered with and burdened interstate commerce and was repugnant to Art. I, Sec. 8 of the Federal constitution. Because of the principal involved and the far-reaching effect of the ordinance, the company after suffering the two reverses carried its case to the highest court of the land.

The decision of the United States Supreme court in favor of the company

DIRIGIBLE MAY BE SENT TO THE ARCTIC

Sentiment Grows in Favor of Dispatching
Shenandoah or Los Angeles After Missing Aviators

PRESIDENT IS FAVORABLE

(By United Press)

Washington, May 26—Sentiment for the ultimate dispatch of the United States Naval dirigible Shenandoah or the Los Angeles to the Arctic to search for the Amundsen expedition, grew swiftly in official quarters today.

Developments included: A statement by the White House spokesman that President Coolidge favored the use of all practical and possible means of carrying relief to the missing exploring party if it finally becomes necessary.

A declaration by Secretary of the Navy Wilbur that while no official consideration was being given yet to plans for such use of the giant airship, he personally was giving much thought to the project.

The president was reported by the White House spokesman as entirely favorable to the use of either or both of the great airships in the venture if expert opinion of naval aeronauts regarded the project as feasible.

The president, however, was said to believe that it is not yet certain that dispatch of a rescue crew party is needed and until the need is manifest, plans should be held in abeyance.

World war: Raymond Benning, Russell Dearinger, Dr. P. H. Chadwick, George Todd and Tom Saunders.

"We forget all too soon the things that are back of Memorial Day," said the Rev. Mr. Sage, recalling the treatment that soldiers had received during the period immediately following war. "We descend from the mountain top of devotion to the valley of selfishness."

Memorial Day is essential, he said, to the life of the nation, to bring back our thoughts to the men who served to bring us back to a higher plane of thinking and acting towards those who made the sacrifices of war.

"Those who gave their lives and those who are crippled and maimed," he asserted, "we should remember in a tangible way. I rejoice that the Civil war veterans are being remembered more graciously than immediately after the war."

Memorial Day is a necessity, he continued, lest we forget the cause back of it—war with its bloodshed, degradation and heartaches. The speaker declared he was not a pacifist, nor a jingo, adding "There may be those who care for war. They are simple fools—nothing more. I wish that the jingos might have a taste of war and all its hellishness." Neither did he justify, he said, the man who would refuse to lay down his life for his country and the principles for which it stands.

can do for those who made the supreme sacrifice is to guarantee for them that we as a nation shall not stumble and say to their sons that their sacrifice shall not have been in vain," he declared.

"It is for us to be dedicated to that which makes for righteousness, that which makes for peace, and we can best repay those who sacrificed by just that."

In closing, the Rev. Mr. Sage spoke of the heroism of peace which he declared required physical, mental and spiritual or moral courage.

"We are learning the value of the heroism of the common place," he said. "It takes courage to step out into the world of business or science and take a stand for the right."

SIDE PAINED HER TERRIBLY

After Childbirth Women Should Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to Restore Normal Conditions

St. Louis, Missouri. — "After my first child was born I was bothered with a pain in my side which became more severe the longer I let it go. It was terrible. I often had to lie down to get any relief. I was in a weak and run-down condition, and my side seemed to be the point for all the pain. I was this way for three months, then I read your little booklet and the testimonials it contained, and started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I could feel relief after the first bottle and I have found it to do all you claim for it. I had to repeat it again after my second child was born. I sure will recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends." — Mrs. N. R. LAYTON, 2726A University St., St. Louis, Missouri.

If you are suffering from any weakness which causes such symptoms as pains in the side and back and nervous feelings, give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial now.

agents over the state indicated the loss from the frost will total more than a million dollars.

Tomato plants, onions, melon patches and early garden truck, in many places were completely destroyed. Some damage was done to corn and wheat, according to Minor Justin, United States agricultural statistician.

Fruits of all kinds suffered severely and the strawberry crop of many farmers was ruined.

The frost was one of the most damaging that has been experienced in Indiana this late in May for a number of years.

Another frost warning was sent out by the weather bureau for last night but J. H. Arrington, government meteorologist, said there was little probability of any serious damage.

BIBLE THOUGHT

—FOR TODAY—

The God of Peace—Now the

God of Peace . . . make y ou

perfect in every good work to do His will. Hebrews 13:20, 21.

Prayer—May we, O Lord,

daily and definitely strive by

Thy grace to be perfect even as

our Father in heaven is perfect.

A Carnival Aftermath

“A Rushville Citizen” writing to

the Daily Republican makes a good

case against the carnival which was

here last week, and in doing so condemned all transient carnivals.

Aside from any moral question—

and that alone is enough to brand

them as undesirable—they are a detriment to the community from a business standpoint. They carry

thousands of dollars away and leave

nothing in return.

Such organizations as the one

lately in Rushville take money from

many people who can ill afford to

spend it and as a consequence the

local merchant suffers. He sells that much less merchandise or he finds

it impossible to collect for that which he has sold.

Every individual has the right to

spend his money in the manner that

he sees fit. No one questions that

right so long as he meets his financial obligations. But when he wastes

money and neglects to pay his honest debts, the interests of others are

involved and the question becomes

one of public interest.

Regardless of the test applied, the

carnival as it is now operated can

not justify itself. It violates the

law in permitting wide open public

gambling in which any child may

engage. It assaults the sense of de-

cency with the class of people

which it brings into the community.

And the class of attractions it has,

with the exception of the riding de-

vices, are a pretense of no enter-

taining value.

There are no cases on record

where any organization ever profited

from sponsoring a carnival. There is

generally a trick clause to the con-

tract which leaves the local organization with all the responsibility.

Compared with the labor required

and the harm which is done the or-

ganization in the eyes of many peo-

ple, any group that undertakes to

underwrite a carnival loses instead

of gains.

ostracized. There ought to be a public sentiment in Rushville which

would not permit such a leach on

society to do business in this community.

Stars Draw B. B. Managers

By HENRY L. FARBEN, (United Press Sports Editor)

New York, May 28—Several major league ball clubs would be willing to take a $75,000 to $100,000 gamble on Owen Carroll, the sensational pitcher of the Holy Cross College 'varsity' nine. Competent scouts, who have been watching him for two years, say that he is ready to step into the major leagues without a hitch in the minors and that he is a natural ball player. In addition to being a smart pitcher, he is a fine hitter and a skilled fielder.

Carroll pledged himself two years ago to the Detroit Tigers and his name appeared upon the eligible list. Last winter he was dropped to the ineligible list and it was thought at the time that Ty Cobb just wanted to make room for another player until Carroll finished his studies. It was a surprise to baseball men to learn that Detroit had secured first crack at his services because he had told several other clubs that his vocation was the priesthood and that he didn't care to follow the career of a baseball player. If he did decide to play a few years, it was thought certain that he would be landed by the Philadelphia Athletics who have an inside track through Jack Barry, Holy Cross coach, and formerly one of Connie Mack's stars.

Apparently Carroll doesn't want to play with Detroit and he has asked Commissioner Landis to be relieved from the pledge that he signed with Detroit. He maintains that he was under age when he signed with Detroit. He maintains there is very little chance that the commissioner will see it that way, however, because a college boy, even though he were only sixteen or seventeen, ought to have intelligence enough to know what he was doing.

Carroll's brilliant work has done much to place Holy Cross in the limelight, although for years it has had the reputation of developing more baseball players than any other institution in the country. Baseball supports itself and makes money at Holy Cross. There are no figures available, but it is thought that Holy Cross is the only college in the country where baseball is a real money maker.

Records show that the 'varsity' nine played before 65,000 last season at Worcester and the team is such a drawing card that the Worcester team in the Eastern League arranges its schedule so that it will be on the road when Holy Cross plays at home. Last year on a holiday date the 'varsity' nine and the professional team played at home. Ten thousand spectators saw the college game and 500 looked at the league game.

AMUSEMENTS

George Arliss at Castle

George Arliss, distinguished screen and stage star, gives a remarkable life-like study in his newest photoplay, "The Man Who Played God," a United Artists Corporation release, now shown at the Castle theatre. It is one of the most difficult of roles, although as played by Mr. Arliss it unfolds in simplicity and with greater dramatic intensity than any artists has shown in photoplays.

Mr. Arliss has the role of John Arden, famous American musician, who loses his sense of hearing. It is in Paris. He has just married the girl of his heart. Fame has come to him—but now, the end. He returns to New York, and hides away in an apartment on Central Park West. From his windows he can see the great park, and hundreds passing his window. Arden has learned lip reading and peers at passersby through his telescope. He can see them, but they cannot see him.

With the passing of time, Arden's whole nature changes. He is no longer smiling, and gay, cheering those about him. Just the opposite is true. He becomes morose and dejected, instilling fear into those about him. The splendid lover and the loved has brought hatred upon himself by his taciturn conduct.

"A Thief In Paradise," Coming

One of the most bizarre costumes ever seen in motion picture is said to be worn by Aileen Pringle in "A Thief In Paradise," the new First National picture coming to the Princess theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

Solid ropes of pearls form the diaphanous skirt, headress and bodice. A huge cape of silver net strung with pearls complete the beautiful affair.

It is said that eighteen thousand pearls were used in making the costume. Practically every dealer in Oriental pearls on the Pacific Coast was emptied of his stock.

Aileen symbolizes a pearl in an exotic dance staged on the ocean's bed, twenty feet undersea. It forms one of the many novel scenes shown in "A Thief In Paradise." Ronald Colman and Doris Kenyon are featured with Aileen Pringle in the case, with Claude Gillingwater, Aileen Francis and John Patrick heading the support.

SCHOOL GIRL COMPLEXION ISN'T IMPOSSIBLE IF YOU'LL USE CARE IN YOUR EATING

Every woman likes a good complexion. Today most of them buy one at the drug store but ill health can't be painted over, and rouge never fooled anyone, however well it may be done.

If you have a dull, muddy complexion under that rouge your health is not good because a fresh, rosy complexion is a sure sign of good health and it is just as easily obtained as the rouge that covers a poor complexion. In nine cases out of ten a muddy complexion or a pale face results from an impoverished or ill-nourished body. Not that enough food isn't eaten but the stomach, wearied by too much abuse of heavy rich foods or improper foods, can't digest the food, and consequently the circulation becomes poor, impurities creep into the blood, sleep is troubled, and the natural result is a more or less run down condition, or if not a run down condition, at least a blood condition which makes for a muddy complexion.

Now that condition can be remedied. First get Di-Jo at your drug-gist. It is a digestive tablet which will probably correct most of your digestive troubles and then add plenty of green vegetables, fruit and bran starch foods. You will find that Di-Jo will convert your food into body building flesh, not fat, but real bone and brawn. You'll find your blood circulating better, you'll find the poisonous matter eliminated and if your bowels are lazy take Di-Vac for a few days until the system can readily eliminate the waste itself. Then after Di-Jo and Di-Vac have done their work you'll find yourself feeling so much better that a varied diet will keep you in the very best of health. For sale at all druggists.

Publicity Scrap Book for the Biennial Council at West Baden

Rush County has had a publicity column for its women's Federated Club since April of 1924. Its function has been to report club activity, emphasize the work expected by the State Departments, and to give General Federation News.

Mrs. Kate Allen, as County Chairman first conducted it. Later it was managed by her successor, Mrs. Clara Allen. Then when Mrs. Rena Warner took the chairmanship of the county she appointed Mrs. Helen Hester. Now the State Federation is asking for a page or two of such publicity from Rush County in scrap book form for exhibition at the Biennial Council in June together with such information as we have concerning the line of work which has been pursued by the clubs this past year.

In order that you Rush County club women may review the contents of this scrap book, the following is offered:

There were several outstanding county meetings this club year, as for instance the afternoon of November 15th, Mrs. George Urbach gave her impressions of the authors of Indiana who were present at the Authors Breakfast during the State convention. Mrs. Kate Allen reviewed the important points in Mr. Whiting Williams' address and Mrs. C. A. Dugal explained the proposed amendments to the constitution. Mrs. Clara Lambert presented the plans for Junior Membership. Mrs. Jordan explained the drive being made by the General Federation for Better Homes. Mrs. Walter Saxon discussed Federation work from the point of view of a district chairman, giving most helpful ideas.

The principal feature of the meeting was a lecture on Public Health by Dr. W. F. King of Indianapolis followed by discussion, at which time vital questions pertaining to our public hygiene were asked and efficiently answered.

There was a call meeting to select someone to fill Mrs. Clara's Allen's office of county chairman at which time Mrs. Rena Warner was chosen.

The county convention was held in Rushville in April at which time splendid departmental and club reports were heard. Mrs. Rampler, past president of the State Federation, spoke on Feminine Citizenship. A banquet and program were enjoyed by the attendants.

In support of the different departments the column offered such articles, in part, as follows:

Under the caption of "Her Mirror" Better Homes were stressed, endeavoring to show how any woman's home, over which she has the supervision, is her mirror, reflecting, as it does, herself, her education, her training and her ideals.

To further interest in Public Health Mrs. Clara Allen wrote "Let us not be short sighted, let us help this generation by making health a living, radiating objective. In fact make health more contagious than disease."

In order to emphasize Civic Improvement and Memorial Tree activity, under the heading of "Spring" the column offered: "The General Federation of Women's Clubs has a garden week, April 19 to 26, during which time the individual club is asked to stress the individual garden. Then there is a reawakened interest in tree planting. Organized women throughout the United States have used their influence to encourage the planting of trees. Some have been planted in memory of individuals, avenues of trees have been planted in memory of recent war victims. Community Christmas trees, fine specimens of the fast disappearing evergreen fur have been forever preserved by certain women who have feared for the perpetuity of this magnificent species. Millions are annually sacrificed at Christmas time; therefore Mrs. Sherman presents the delightful idea that we transplant one to our own yard as a permanent institution.

Would it not prove an exquisite pleasure to some club of Rush County to propose and further some such measure as would prove a lasting memorial in its community.

For the girls of Rush County in particular but for all girls in general, just before Girls Week the column suggested:

"Copying after Boy's Week of last year, we could allow the girls of this community to step into the responsibility and prestige for a season. It would have the effect of stimulating girlish ambition and would acquaint the grown-up population with the partially developed capabilities and unquestionable possibilities of our girlhood."

"These girls in our midst need Big Sisters every bit as badly as any boy ever needed a Big Brother."

And then "Peace" was another article in which the publicity chairman endeavored to acquaint the club women with their power of ballot and their personal weight with their representatives in the senate and Congress toward an ultimate plan for peace among nations.

The names of the fourteen clubs of this county affiliated with the County Federation will follow in alphabetical order and a word about the topic of study followed by each.
